Supper Room

THERE ARE NO ELVES AT OUR CLUB

At the conclusion of a recent two-week red point event, participants enjoyed drinks, cheese etc which is very fitting. However, no-one cleaned up and by the time the next group of players arrived, the cheese had hardened and baked itself onto the wooden boards. There were dirty dishes left everywhere and dirty glasses, some piled up in front of the notice requesting that glasses NOT be left there, but on the trays set out for dirty glasses.

This is rude and insulting behaviour. No-one does dishes for us and it is completely unacceptable for players to leave the club without making sure that the supper room has been left in a state appropriate for the next group.

We have a letter system, so do your bit when your surname letter comes up, and that means you blokes as well. However, even if it isn't your month, if you are the last to leave at the end of your session, make sure you leave the place clean.
